NILES CIVIC GROUP HEARS ADDRESS ON ABRAHAM LINCOLN

RUNAWAY STAGED ON NILES MAIN STREET

Memories of the old horse and buggy days were recalled last Wednesday afternoon by those on Niles Main street when a team hitched to a wagon staged a runaway.

The team and wagon were the property of Tony Garcia, a rancher near Niles. Frightened by a passing car, the team set off at headlong gallop down the street and caused automobile traffic to hurriedly seek safety. Pacified of their own accord, the horses finally stopped on the sidewalk in front of the Wellesley hotel, with no damage being done.

Motorist Deprived of His License for 30 Days In Niles Court

After pleading guilty to a reckless driving charge, Joseph Pereria, of Santa Clara, was deprived of his driving license for thirty days in the Niles justice court Tuesday. Pereria was cited in Mission San Jose January 18 by Joe A. Macer, of the state highway patrol.

The case against John Silver, John Dewey, and Gus Marshall, charged with malicious mischief, was dismissed in Tuesday's court, on account of insufficient evidence to warrant holding them for trial.

Gettysburg Speech Praised by High School Principal

Commemorating the birthday of one of the greatest figures in American history, the Tuesday meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce was devoted chiefly to listening to a touching address on Abraham Lincoln delivered by A. J. Rathbone, principal of the Washington Union high school at Centerville.

Using as the basis of his talk the book, "The Perfect Tribute," by Mary Shipman Andrews, in which the greatness of the Gettysburg speech is vividly impressed upon the reader, Rathbone brought out to all his listeners the admirable qualities possessed by Lincoln. From the lips of a dying youth, the "Great Emancipator" obtained an inkling of the lasting quality of those few brief words he had uttered on the battlefield at Gettysburg.

President F. V. Jones told the chamber that 265 homes and buildings in Niles had been numbered during the recent numbering campaign, and that the project had paid for itself. There are a few buildings without numbers yet, but it is expected their owners will have numerals placed on them later.

Dr. E. C. Grau was appointed chairman to arrange for next week's gathering. President Jones announced there will be a speaker present.

NILES WOMEN GO TO CHILDREN HOSPITAL MEET IN OAKLAND

Mrs. Shinn is retiring as treasurer of the Toyon organization, and her place will be taken by Mrs. August May, of Alvarado.

Southern Pacific Track In Niles Canyon Un- dermined

The heavy storm which swept over the northern part of California during the week-end was experienced by Niles and surrounding community in the form of blocked roads, flooded creeks, drenching rains, and re-routing of railroad traffic.

Niles Canyon highway suffered heavily from slides which closed the road to traffic. Large boulders were loosened and kept falling onto the road, making dangerous for traffic to travel. The road was closed to traffic Monday afternoon and night, while county road crews were busy all Monday night clearing away the slides. Roadmaster Joe Gomes reported that a crew of thirty-two men were employed Monday night and Tuesday in Niles Canyon, while Wednesday forty-eight men were at work on the highway. The road was opened to traffic Tuesday morning, but another heavy slide Tuesday afternoon at the "Narrows" made it impossible for motorists to pass through the canyon.

Slides on the Mission San Jose highway also closed that road to traffic for a time Monday. Alameda creek was swollen to flood condition by the torrential rains of Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Southern Pacific rail service through Niles canyon was suspended.

MAN DOES DIVING ACT FROM HIGHWAY BRIDGE AT SUNOL

Pulled From Water Only to Stage Another Leap

The water flowing beneath the highway bridge at Sunol apparently had lures too strong for Tom Johnson, 50, of Modesto, to resist, for Sunday he carefully divested himself of all clothing in spite of passing traffic, and dove from the railing into the creek twenty feet below.

Two transients camping underneath the bridge rescued Johnson from the water, helped him into his clothing and sent him on his way. But the man, who was believed to have been drunk, was not satisfied with his first diving exhibition, but staged another "Annette Kellerman" from the railing.

After the second dive from the bridge, Manuel Martin, of Hayward, jumped into the water and dragged Johnson ashore. Upon learning from the transients that it was Johnson's second header, Martin notified Deputy Sheriff Radbruch who took the diver to the Emergency Hospital in Oakland, where he is under observation and suffering from exposure.

Mills College Man Features Toyon Meet

Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William V. Eberly in Niles, with Warren Cheney, professor of art at Mills College, present as the guest of honor and chief speaker.

LARGE GROUP GATHERS FOR UNITED ARTISANS DISTRICT CONCLAVE

BEHOLD! FAIR SEX ENTERS GOLFING FEUD

The Niles golfing feud is on again! After two weeks of inactivity among Niles golfers, hostilities will be resumed next Sunday at the Hillview Golf and Country club in San Jose.

And who do you think is scheduled to make a bid for the southern Alameda county niblick wielding championship? Feeling that the present male domination of the field is hardly upholding the laurels won by such famous women golfers as Helen Hicks and Glenna Collet, two members of the fair sex now threaten the honors claimed by Jack Williamson and "Jumping" Joe Blacow.

These two are Iva Liston, of Niles, member of the Washington Union high school faculty, and Edna Arbing, both of whom display no mean ability when it comes to driving golf pellets across the greens.

With male challengers showing lethargy in coming to the front to dispute the claims of Williamson and Blacow, the girls decided they would enter the competition and make a resolute effort to convince the men that when it comes to golf women have to be considered. Miss Arbing and Miss Liston are no novices in the art of swinging golf clubs, the former being champion of the Hillview club, while the latter ranks third.

Sunday's match will be in the form of an eighteen hole four ball foursome handicap, and Williamson and Blacow will have to unleash all their golfing strategy if they hope to turn back this threat on the part of the feminine gender. However, they express no fears of defeat, feeling confident of their ability to come through with a victory.

AUXILIARY WILL HAVE LEGION AS GUESTS AT NILES

The American Legion Auxiliary, Post No. 195, of Washington township, will have members of the American Legion Post 195 as guests at a joint meeting to be held February 16, at the Veterans' Memorial building at Niles. Refreshments will be served by the ladies.

The Auxiliary has launched plans for a membership drive, and officers of the organization have asked all those eligible to join the unit. Plans have been made by the auxiliary for the poppy sale to be held in the near future. Mrs. Charley Wahn, of Centerville, is in charge of the sale.

RECEPTION IS HELD FOR NEWLY-WEDS AT NILES

A rousing reception was given Mr. and Mrs. George Crane by friends at Niles Saturday night, after the couple's return from their honeymoon.

Mrs. Crane was formerly Miss Laura Mullins, of San Jose, while Crane is a well-known Niles youth. The two were married a week ago Monday in Oakland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Crane, of Niles.

The newly-weds will make their home in San Jose.

High Officials Present At Ceremonies Held In Niles

With over two hundred members of lodges throughout this section of the state in attendance, the district convention of the United Artisans was held Saturday night in the Odd Fellows' hall in Niles. Supreme Master Artisan H. S. Hudson, of Portland, Oregon, was present as the guest of honor.

The meeting was arranged under the direction of Mrs. Ella Watt, supreme instructor, assisted by Mrs. Bessie DeLessa, of San Jose, and was held for the purpose of laying plans for the reorganization of United Artisan lodges in this district.

Twenty new members were initiated at Saturday night's ceremonies, five of whom are of Washington township. These are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Reynolds, Mrs. H. F. Scott, Rex Broyles, all of Niles, and Mrs. Lesda Brown, of Centerville.

Drill teams from the San Francisco Golden Gate assembly, San Jose, Modesto, and Oakland, added color to the ceremonies with snappy drill work.

After the official business meeting and the initiation, a banquet was served, at which Hudson delivered a well-received address. Other members also presented brief talks.

The banquet was followed by dancing, music being provided by an Oakland orchestra.

AVIATION INTEREST SHOWN BY SUNOL SCHOOL CHILDREN

Principal George Richards Is Member of County Air Patrol

Possibility that Sunol may have Colonel Charles Lindberghs and Commander Richarda Byrds in the making are very bright, judging from the interest shown in aviation by the pupils of the Sunol grammar school. This interest has been fostered through George Richards, principal, who is said to be the only flying school principal in northern California.

During the last few months, every child in the school who could obtain parental permission has enjoyed a flight with Richards, who was appointed last fall by Sheriff M. B. Driver as an officer of the Alameda County airport patrol.

The principal, who flies his own plane, is one of three officers in Alameda county whose duty it is to see that all planes are licensed, and that the pilots obey the state and department of commerce regulations. Listed as chief among his duties is the investigation of all airplane accidents in southern Alameda county. In case of an accident, residents of this section should get in communication with him immediately.

Teaching a class in a "ground school" held in connection with night school classes at Washington Union high school, of Centerville, every Tuesday and Thursday nights is also part of Richards' aviation activity. Most of the pupils in his class are attending high school, and hope to become professional flyers when they graduate.

Richard keeps his plane on the private airport of Sam Metzger, between Irvington and Warm Springs.

HE WILL RUE THE DAY

ROLPH has made a blunder—a personal blunder. He has appointed Friend W. Richardson, formerly errand boy for Harry Chandler, to the office of state building and loan commissioner. Not entering into a discussion of the ability of Richardson to carry on the manifold duties of his new office, as well at least as his predecessor, we caution the governor to remember that Richardson aspires to again become governor of California. To gain his end, ere the next campaign rolls around, Sunny Jim will have reason to expatiate upon the ungratefulness of human nature. The governor's smile will turn to a scowl as he views the overhanging skies made murky by a splatterboot press whooping it up for Richardson, on the strength of his newspaper affiliations, when in fact, he never did an unselfish act for the press in his life. He has ridden the newspapers to death in his mad scramble to get all four feet in the public trough.

ADVERTISING AT ITS WORST

HELLO! New York; hello! Richmond. Lucky Strike's dance hour on the air. You switch the dial, and to your disgust you hear the same conceited voice shouting in the microphone. With a powerful broadcasting apparatus and national hook-up, it seems that you cannot escape this disgusting advertising. Your fireside is polluted by this obnoxious cigarette manufacturer in an attempt to put a cigarette into the mouth of every adult in America. That is the program and the ambition of the president of the American Tobacco company.

Let us picture a normal American home—a normal American father and mother with growing boys and girls. The father and the mother have been doing their best to raise their children up to the high standards under which they themselves were reared. The radio, a comparatively new mechanical and scientific wonder, has come into a place in the home life of practically every American. It has brought great joy to all of us, and in the main is a power for good.

But let us take some rainy night, for instance. The family is home for the evening, and the radio is the diversion. Suddenly the cigarette trust gets the air, and before the parents can switch the dial, the announcer is telling the radio world, a world embracing millions of girls of grammar and high school age, how Lucky Strike cigarettes excel other brands. In an instant, and before the parents can interfere with the damnable propaganda, a feminine voice, announcing herself as a well known star of Hollywood, tells all the adolescent youth how she enjoys her cigarettes, and urges her youthful admirers to use none but Lucky Strikes.

The whole thing is contemptible. The cigarette trust stalks into the sanctity of the home to corrupt the children of America. It comes into the home under cover of a federal license to undermine the high standards of our people. It seeks to seduce the housewife, and if this avaricious business could it would put a cigarette into the mouth of every child. It sets its goal at every adult a customer, but it means every child that can scratch a match.

Newspapers that carry this filthy advertising, with its appeal exclusively to women and girls, are on the same level with the radio station that broadcasts for the tobacco trust.

Noted physicians warn that the next generation of Americans, the product of cigarette smoking mothers, will be physically, mentally and morally inferior to the present breed of Americans. The habit among women—yes, even young men—is filthy, nauseating. It cuts down the efficiency of labor and business. The writer has made a careful check on this thing, and has found that an employee who is permitted to smoke during working hours loses fifteen per cent of his time in the constant operation of lighting cigarettes, laying them down, picking them up again, all day long. It litters the floor with filth, reeks the air with nauseating odor, and is demoralizing to any institution. Think of the home, with mother and daughter cursed with the habit. The wholesomeness of the fireside gone, the high ideals of past generations supplanted by the practices of decaying Europe.

What is needed today is protest by that great body of people who are not yet committed to the new order of things. Instead of condoning the practice, the churches should have the courage to fight this evil of cigarette smoking among women and girls. Faced with depleted ranks and empty pews, many of the modern churches are sacrificing principle and Christianity in the hope of holding their parishioners by winking at vice. The conscience of America seems to be dead. Anything that is a fad, good or bad, is popular, applauded.

We need an awakened conscience. But most of all we need honest, fearless and wise men in public office. Good government might help the people to retrace their steps back into the old highways of homely American life. The radio should be under control. Each radio owner should pay a monthly fee to meet the expense of first-class entertainment. Advertising should be banned. The public is getting thoroughly disgusted with the constant intrusion of questionable advertising into the air waves. Quacks of all descriptions, allied with hello! New York; hello! Richmond, are taking all the joy out of the radio—are turning a scientific marvel that should be a blessing into a curse.

SAN JOSE STORE TO MAKE CHANGE TO NEW QUARTERS

One of the pioneer business firms of San Jose, the Arcade dry goods store, 85 South First street, have announced plans to move to new, more spacious quarters in the three-story building at 52 South First street, across the street, probably by the middle of next month.

The new quarters, consisting of a three-story building, will be admirably suited to the Arcade's steadily growing business. Chief among the reasons for moving is the fact that the new home of the firm will be on the east side of First street, which A. B. Canelo, president of the Arcade, states is a distinct advantage to the retail merchant selling wearing apparel.

Beginning last week a crew of men commenced work of altering and remodeling the building, the work to require about thirty days to complete, and to cost in the neighborhood of $4000.

When the new store is open for business an unrivaled shopping service will be offered to the buyer. Available will be ready-to-wear goods, millinery, corsets and lingerie, hosiery, fashionable accessories and dry goods. The system used is responsible for the name of the firm, "The Arcade," and distinguishes it from most other establishments handling similar merchandise.

Forty people were present to enjoy a delicious three course dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were presented with a beautiful set of crystal coffee cups and saucers by their friends, with Mrs. Ralph Emerson making the presentation speech. B Quintet Drops Game to Dons and Takes Emeryville Contest

Taking an early lead and holding it throughout the game, Coach Regli's Washington Union high school A hoopers were victorious over Emeryville high school at the Washington high gym Tuesday night. The final score was 16 to 4.

Washington's B quintet also took the measure of Emeryville's B five by the close count of 10 to 8.

By virtue of Tuesday night's win, and a 25 to 19 victory over Pleasanton last Friday night, the A cagers assumed a firm hold on third place in southern Elameda county league standings, being topped only by Hayward and Livermore. The B five did not fare so well against Pleasanton, coming out on the short end of a 29 to 14 decision.

Close checking on the part of the A hoopers kept the Emeryville count down in Tuesday night's game. The Cornhuskers led 5 to 0 at the conclusion of the first half, and allowed the rivals to tally only four counters during the second half. Trout led the Cornhuskers' attack with seven points.

Washington's line-up and scoring follows: Trout (7), Fudenna (1), forwards; Rodriguez (3), center; Fontes (2), Salvadorini, Madero (1), and Rathbone (2), guards.

Nakagawara was high point man for Washington in the B encounter with Emeryville, with four tallies. Line-up and scoring follow: H. Sekigahama (3), Foeher (2), forwards; Phippen, center; Nakagawara (4), and Katashima (1), guards.

Pleasanton Games Although the score was close during the entire game, the Washington A hoopers held the advantage over the Dons from the beginning in Friday night's tilt.

Trout for Washington hit the bucket with consistency and was largely responsible for his teammates' win. He gathered a total of eleven points during the evening. Rodriguez was close behind with eight.

Washington line-up and scoring follow: Fudena, Rathbone (4), Trout (11), forwards; Rodriguez (8), center; Coley, Fontes, Salvadorini (2), Maderos, guards.

The sharpshooting George for the Pleasanton B five proved the downfall of the Cornhuskers. This speedy forward swished the net for seventeen counters to annex high point honors. H. Sekigahama displayed the best ball for Washington. He scored eight points.

Washington line-up and scoring follow: H. Sekigahama (8), Foeher (1), Laybourne, Brown, forwards; Phippen, Koga, centers; Nakagawara, Reina, Tomimatsu (1), M. Hirabayshi (2), Masuda (2), Kitashima, guards.

The basketball season will close for Washington Friday night when the A and B hoopers will meet Hayward.

CENTERVILLE FIVE DROPS GAME TO SANTA CRUZ

The Centerville Knights of Columbus basketball team dropped a contest to the Santa Cruz Knights of Columbus quintet Monday night by the score of 37 to 20. Santa Cruz is considered to have one of the strongest Knights of Columbus fives in the state.

Indemnity + Prevention = Insurance

More than Indemnity

Your fire insurance dollar provides far more than you realize. Of course it protects you from financial loss in case of fire. But it does so much more that it ranks as one of the most effective dollars you spend.

Merely as indemnity, Stock Fire Insurance is one of the cheapest necessities. Its average rate has consistently declined for more than 20 years, until in 1930 it reached the lowest figure in all American fire insurance history.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

teaches better building practices—furnishes a service for the suppression of arson, another for the improvement of community fire defenses and conducts many general fire prevention activities, all of which have contributed to the reduction of fire waste and the loss of life by fire.

PLEASANTON B TEAM DEFEATED BY EMERYVILLE

Loss of Amador Five's Characteristic Speed Gives Away Contest

Pleasanton B basketball team was doomed to defeat when they met the Emeryville five in a tussle at the Emeryville court last Tuesday afternoon. They lost by a score of seven to twelve.

Emeryville got a lead and held it all through the game.

The Amador cagers, who are especially noted for their effective and speedy team work, played a slow game. The game was on an outdoor dirt court, and due to the fact that the Dons have never played on a dirt court before, they could not keep from tripping and losing their step. It was all they could do to keep on their feet at all, and as a consequence the

VOUCHER CHECK

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—California's treasury is $3,136,313.68 richer today. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has just paid this amount to State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson with one of the largest checks ever received by the department. It covers the second installment of the utility's state taxes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, and completes payment of a levy totaling $6,272,627.36. This sum, representing seven and a half per cent of the company's gross receipts for the period, makes the P. G. and E. the second largest taxpayer in California. The Southern Pacific Company alone overtops it.

In addition to the state tax of $6,272,627.36 the Pacific Gas and Electric Company has paid more than two million dollars in other taxes, bringing the year's outlay for taxation to $8,459,415.98. Payments to the federal government for 1931 amounted to $1,678,672.31; various city and county taxes totaled $442,516.54, and the state gasoline tax took $62,386 more. The balance was made up of miscellaneous levies.

This total of $8,459,415.98 represents more than ten per cent of the company's gross revenue during the year. Its payment, utility officials pointed out to Treasurer Johnson, means that all proceeds of the P. G. and E. operations for one day out of every ten or close to six weeks out of the year go exclusively for taxes.

As an indication of the size of the sum just paid to the state, Treasurer Johnson stated that it would, even if California had not other revenue, be sufficient to finance many of the state activities. It would pay the salaries and running expenses of both houses of the legislature, state supreme court, district court of appeals, state-county superior courts (state contribution), department of penology, all state prisons and correctional schools, state institutions for women, narcotic enforcement and crime detection. In addition, it would defray all the expenses of the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, secretary of state, franchise tax commissioner, state board of equalization, and the department of public health.

In fact, after providing for all of these, the payment would still leave a substantial amount for other expenditures.

LION HUNTER WILL MAKE APPEARANCE AT HAYWARD SHOW

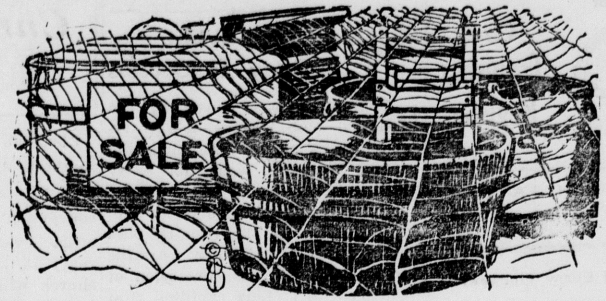

Some people strive for years to become famous movie stars; others have that distinction thrust upon them in the course of their every day life. Hayward's own Jay Bruce, California's official lion hunter, finds himself in the latter class.

In "Cougar," swiftly becoming the most famous wild animal picture ever made, Jay, well known to all residents of this district, appears Sunday and Monday, February 14 and 15, at the Hayward theater.

The picture, presented and photographed in natural sound by Sidney A. Snow, internationally known Arctic and African hunter, depicts our good friend Bruce, his dogs and trusty revolver, stalking California mountain lions and featuring Jay's pet pastime of capturing them alive with rope and pole. A. E. Anderson, well known California motion picture critic states that "Cougar is the greatest picture I have yet seen and is worth a whole truck load of the usual Hollywood output."

Snow will appear personally at each run and give highlights of his eight years' association with Bruce, during which time the picture was made.

This is the first appearance of "Cougar" in Jay's home district.

FIGHT LOOMS IN STAND ON POLICY BY COMMISSION

California, New York, Wisconsin Railroad Commissioners Object

WITHDRAWAL IS SEEN

Protest of Activities Is To Be Lodged With Association

Charging that the national Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners as it is now conducted is "imperiling state regulation," the Railroad Commission of California, together with the public utility commissions of New York and Wisconsin have served formal notice upon the membership of that association of their intention to secede from the national body unless the association "changes its course."

Announcement of the intention of the California Railroad Commission to thus withdraw unless radical changes in policies are made is contained in a communication address to state utility commissioners of the various states of the nation. Similar communications have been addressed to these commissioners by the public utility regulatory bodies of New York and Wisconsin.

The action of the withdrawing commissions is based on three grounds:

First, it is charged that at the annual meetings of the National Association, a number of utility officials and representatives have endeavored to "influence the action in the convention, by furnishing entertainment to commissioners, and by other similar activities, and have seriously impaired the value of the conventions and are bringing the good name of the entire association into disrepute." It is stated that this condition has "reached such proportions that corrective measures must be applied." The communication points out that a resolution intended to remedy this condition was defeated at the last convention. This resolution, so the communication of the California commission states, was intended "not only to exclude non-members from unduly taking up the time of the commissioners in discussions which would be more appropriately presented elsewhere, but was designed to discourage the attendance of the large number of utility officials and representatives who have regularly been invited to attend these yearly meetings."

Further objection is registered to the action of the association which "voted to suppress and exclude from its public records the transcript of the debate on this issue."

Second, formal opposition is voiced to the action of the association taken at its last convention in defeating a resolution providing that the yearly convention be held permanently, after 1932, at Washington, D. C. This resolution was offered by Clyde L. Seavey, president of the California Railroad commission.

In support of this resolution it was urged that Washington is a logical place to meet; that the association met there regularly for many years; that the main office of the association is located there, as is also the Interstate Commerce Commission. It was pointed out that such permanent meeting place would eliminate the present general criticism, that the conventions had become more or less junketing trips; that the junketing aspects of the association conventions had injured public confidence in regulation; that because of the plain necessity for the most economical expenditure of public funds these junkets could not be defended and should be definitely terminated; that the logical way to terminate them was by the selection of a permanent meeting place and a program devoted strictly to the problems of regulation.

Third, objection is taken to the action of the National Association in continuing the "supervision" of the publications, "Public Utilities Fortnightly" and "Public Utility Reports." This resolution, the California Railroad Commission states, was "especially intended to free the association of the quite natural inuendo attached to supervising and endorsing publications financed and controlled by public utility interests. The point was made that these named publications and the work that they had done and were doing was a valuable one. But, it was said, that for the association to endorse and supervise a publication owned and operated by the very utility interests which the members of the association were required to regulate seemed obviously an improper situation and one which had been properly criticised in many quarters."

A resolution proposing the discontinuance of any connection with these publications was laid upon the table by the association without discussion. Summarizing its attitude and that of the public utility regulatory commissions of New York and Wisconsin, the California Railroad Commission said: "The undersigned have given serious consideration to this crisis in the affairs of the association. We believe that there should be a change in the association's policies on these subjects, and furthermore we believe that there are many commissioners who, upon deliberation will entertain similar views."

"At the Richmond convention some of the states were not represented by delegates, and many members were unable to be present. It is also quite probable that many of the delegates failed to realize the significance of the three resolutions which were so overwhelmingly defeated. The undersigned, therefore, are taking this method of bringing these issues directly to the attention of every member of the association and of urging all commissioners who are genuinely interested in protecting and promoting the cause of effective regulation to support this program."

"There are incalculable benefits which could be derived from the cooperative discussions between commissioners of the various states of pressing regulatory problems, and these benefits we earnestly desire. But what benefits are we as commissioners of the states we represent receiving from the meetings of the association as presently conducted? What benefits are there other than those flowing from pleasant vacations at public expense?"

"We must place regulation within our states ahead of membership in the national association. When the association imperils state regulation, as we are convinced it now does, either the association must change its course or we, as state members now see no alternative but to withdraw."

"This is addressed to each commissioner of every commission which is a member of the association. It is our earnest desire to obtain a statement of the position of each member."

September 7 "Farm Day" with a program of special events and a huge basket-picnic which is expected will cover a big area of the exposition grounds.

"Let's make that day a big reunion of all California," the governor suggested, "where city and country folks may join in their festivities. There's nothing I like better than a piece of cold chicken out of a picnic basket."

CHAOTIC CLING PEACH INDUSTRY TO RECEIVE AID

Giant Growers Organization Embracing All Cooperatives Is Visualized

Carrying out the state's program to stabilize the chaotic cling peach industry, the executive committee of thirteen appointed by Director of Agriculture Dudley Moulton, this week began a series of meetings to formulate plans for formation of a giant grower organization that would embrace all existing peach cooperatives as well as independents.

Cooperation has been pledged to the grower group by President Hoover, the federal farm board, the federal department of agriculture, and the University of California. Farm board economists are expected to be assigned to California in the immediate future to work with the committee.

John Hale, of Yuba City, is chairman of the committee. L. E. Neel, of Turlock, is secretary. Action of the executive group in immediately plunging into its task of perfecting organization plans was hailed as marking a major step in the campaign to stabilize the cling peach industry.

Decision to form the super grower organization was reached at the first conference of the statewide committee recently and was reiterated at the meeting last week with the unanimous approval of a resolution, which states that "this committee selected by the director of the state department of agriculture endorses this projected organization of cling peach growers, and urges the harmonious cooperation of all cooperative association and independent growers."

A telegram inviting Frank Evans, member of the federal farm board, to come to California and assist in the stabilization program also was dispatched by the committee.

"I believe that excellent progress has been made," Moulton said, "in the cling peach stabilization campaign. I feel confident that the undertaking will prove successful, but we must have the united support of the rank and file growers throughout the state. It is our endeavor to bring together the various factions in the industry, and to strengthen these groups in every way possible. But, they must overcome factional differences."

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR,
Sec. Agricultural Legislative Committee of California

Water conservation, a major concern of California agriculture, but one which has been overshadowed in recent months by the more immediate problems of overproduction and economic depression, comes to the fore again in a suggested program of check dam construction to prevent "flash" run-off of storm waters.

The program is advanced for state-wide consideration by W. R. Wood, the alert editor of California Cultivator, who sees a possibility of providing work for thousands of unemployed in the construction of check dams, in addition to an economical means of storing water in the area of its origin.

A system of check dams, light barriers of rock and brush, thrown across streams at frequent intervals to check the rapid flow of flood waters and increase ground storage, would in no way conflict with the state coordinated water program, or any other major conservation enterprise, according to Wood, but would supplement the larger program and afford immediate aid to many farming areas.

Wood's plan, which has been laid before State Engineer Edward Hyatt, was suggested, he explains, as a result of the success of Los Angeles county flood control engineers in harnessing run-off waters, during recent years, through the check dam system. "The beneficial results are so apparent," he asserts, "that it is surprising such work is not being undertaken along the lower reaches of every watershed from San Diego to Sacramento."

Originally used by the Indians in California and other western states, the check dam is especially valuable in areas where watershed coverings have been destroyed, usually doubling the volume of water which is absorbed by the soil.

The check dam construction could be undertaken by the state counties or districts, according to Wood, and the nature of the work is such that more men could be employed than on any other type of construction.

The chief appeal of the plan, it appears, is that it offers a quickly available method of storing water for summer use at a comparatively nominal cost, and a practical means of providing jobs for unemployed, which would be of constructive value to the community.

One important factor in taking the profit out of the farmer's business, and a condition which demands correction, is that while the producer has been receiving less and less for his products, the agencies between the farmer and consumer, the middlemen, in other words, have made little or no reduction in their margins.

Attention is called to this flagrant abuse in a specific instance by C. B. Denman, a member of the Federal Farm Board, who discloses that farmers are receiving much less for live hogs than is justified by prices consumers are paying for pork. The price of live hogs, he points out, has dropped forty-seven per cent compared with this period a year ago, while the prices of pork products, to consumers, have been reduced only about half that much or from twenty to twenty-five per cent.

Strong farmer-controlled cooperatives, working in the interests of their members, afford the best remedy for such conditions.

Approval by President Hoover of the United States Tariff commission report, specifying an increase in the duty on fresh green peas from three to three and nine-tenths cents per pound, is likely to mean considerably increased sales for California growers.

DANVILLE GOES DOWN BEFORE AMADOR FIVES

Pleasanton Boys Show Good Basketball in Double Game Wednesday

Two basketball teams from Danville suffered defeat at the hands of the Pleasanton squads last Wednesday night.

Amador varsity won, twenty-one to eighteen, while the B team score was twenty-three to eight.

The varsity was hard pressed to win its game. The opponents, on the whole, showed a slightly better brand of basketball. Breaks of the game and plenty of fight gave the Pleasanton boys the victory, however.

The B team score speaks for itself. Danville was simply outclassed.

Peters was high point varsity player, with nine points. The starting lineup: Silva, center; Garibaldi and Robb, guards; Peters and Nott, forwards. Substitutes: Haas, Miller, Vizzolini, Cole.

B team high point man was Bottini, with eight. The lineup:

HIGHWAY PATROL ACTIVITIES FOR 1931 SHOW FORTY PER CENT INCREASE OVER 1930; ARRESTS ALSO ARE MUCH GREATER

Personnel of Department Is Increased Only Eleven Per Cent

A twenty-five per cent increase in arrests and a fifty per cent increase in the number of persons warned by the state highway patrolmen in 1931 were the high points in the annual report of E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol, made public this week.

Noting that there was a marked increase in all enforcement activities of the officers, the report shows drivers of 416,137 vehicles were stopped and warned by the officers as compared with 277,778 such stops for the previous year.

The officers made 76,161 formal arrests during the year and issued 42,893 light warning citation cards. These figures together are an approximate gain of twenty-five per cent over 1930.

An encouraging tendency on the part of the courts of the state to dismiss fewer motorists for violations and to fine more is noted by Cato. During the year 21,931 persons were fined for motor law violations, a gain of 4,598 or twenty-six and one half per cent over 1930.

The fines for traffic violations showed a gain of ten per cent the total collected by the courts

Edward Soito, of Pleasanton, is one of the University of California track and field team candidates who are reporting daily to Walter Christie, veteran Bear track coach, as the 1932 season approaches.

Soito is a javelin thrower and has been a member of the varsity squad for the past two years. He is capable of tossing the spear 175 feet.

Soito, who during his school days in Pleasanton was known as Erminio, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Soito, of Tassajara. He graduated from Amador in 1929 with scholarship honors and was a member of the varsity football and basketball squads throughout his high school career.

Favored with good weather, rapid strides have been made in the conditioning of the men by Christie and his assistants, Dr. Eddie Heeson and Al Ragan.

The Bears have a schedule which includes seven dual meets and the West Coast Relays at Fresno, the California Inter-collegiate in the new California track and field stadium at Berkeley, and the I. C. A. A. A. championships, which will also be held in the new stadium. This will mark the first time that the latter meet has been held on the Pacific Coast.

Miss Laura Dutra, of Niles, sister of the groom, acted as maid of honor, while the groom's cousin, John E. Dutra, of Newark, was best man.

Both the bride and groom are well-known in Washington township. Mrs. Dutra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Silva, of Centerville, and has spent her entire life at that place. SUNOL COUPLE ESCAPE INJURY IN AUTO WRECK

Machines Crash on Highway Near Bonita Last Week

A car driven by Arthur Gomes, of Sunol, crashed into the rear of one driven by Ed. L. Smart, of the Alameda Hetch Hetchy Camp, when Smart stopped suddenly to give two women pedestrians a lift. The accident occurred on January 27, on the Pleasanton-Sunol highway near Bonita.

Gomes, who was following the car driven by Smart, stated that Smart stopped abruptly without giving any signals of warning. According to Constable Vervais, Pleasanton, who investigated, no one was seriously injured. Mrs. Gomes received bruises on her right leg and her husband suffered a cut on his nose.

The back end of Smart's car was wrecked, while the front part of Gomes' car was completely demolished.

AMADOR DAMAGE SUIT COMES TO END LAST WEEK

Pleasanton Students Testify for School in Court

The Hardy damage case against the Pleasanton Amador Valley high school, was completed last week.

Wilbur Hardy, of Sunol, the plaintiff in the matter, is suing that high school for $5,327.70 as damages for injuries received when one finger was severed and three others severely cut by a power saw in the manual training department.

R. O. Moyer, principal, and George Patterson, manual training instructor, in that school, were both at the trial several days last week in Oakland. The trial started last Monday.

Besides Moyer and Patterson, defense witnesses included Tom Nerton, Francis Bottini, Mugs George, Thomas Russel, Melvin Nielson and Francis Nevis, all of Pleasanton; and John Trimmingham and Lorin Buttner, both of Sunol. Sid Lambert, of Pleasanton, and John Rossi, of Sunol, testified for Hardy.

Hardy, at the time of the accident in 1928, was a beginner in the manual training class and was not supposed to use the power saw. Hardy claims that he had not been forbidden use of the saw, while Patterson contends the opposite.

When Patterson heard the saw start he turned to see who was using it, and seeing Hardy, he cried out a warning and started for the machine. Before he could reach it the boy's hand was caught in the spinning saw and badly mangled.

MORE ON TORRENTIAL RAINS

ended Tuesday and Wednesday due to a washout which undermined approximately forty feet of track close to Niles. The rushing waters of Alameda creek ate into the bank and caused the washout. A large crew of men were employed Tuesday and Wednesday, filling in the washout with large rocks rushed to the scene by special trains. Trains from Oakland with passengers and express for destinations up the canyon were met at Niles by busses and a transfer made.

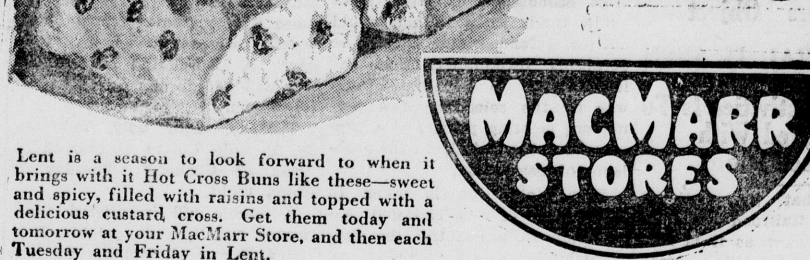

Heavy rains also caused flooded areas in the Alvarado region, water covering the highway at certain sections.

The total rainfall for the season at Niles had reached 19.26 inches by Tuesday morning, according to records kept by Niles Southern Pacific officials. A total of 2.79 inches fell since February 4, while the heaviest rain fell during Monday and Monday night when .89 inches were recorded.

This year's rainfall shows indications of being the heaviest in years. Last year by the end of January only 8.29 inches had fallen at Niles, while the total for the season was only 11.80.
